LOWER TURNPIKE.

Fall term, Harry D. Pamting.

The scholars in town are mostly small and but few in some of our schools.

It was thought best to have ten schools in the spring term. In the fall term there was an arrangement made with Joseph Nealey to convey three scholars from the Tavern Hill school and one from Bean Hill school to the Center for five dollars per week and was considered by the board to be best for all concerned and quite a saving for the district. One scholar living near Deerfield line, attended school in Deerfield, and three or more scholars living near Barrington line attended school in Barrington.

The most of our teachers were a success and were as good as can be obtained, others were not a success and were as poor disciplinarians as any could expect to obtain anywhere. As a whole we think that the schools compare favorably with former years.

In the school property in the district there is not much change from one year ago, some of the houses need repairing or new ones in their places with new seats, and others with new seats, but the hard times and the financial standing of the district calls our attention. We recommend only the painting the outside of the Independent house and fixing the plastering overhead in the Square school house either by new plastering or sheathing, as the old plastering is falling and the most of it is loose and liable to fall at any time.

The Independent house was repaired outside in 1892 and was not painted and now stands in a damaging condition in want of paint.

To the Selectmen of Nottingham. We the undersigned board of Education of Nottingham school district submit the foregoing report of our proceedings for the fiscal year ending Feb. 15, 1894.
